DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 12-17 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse on December 14, 2005.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 3-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP410233467A in view of USPN 6,617,681 to Bohr in view of Applicant's Admitted Prior Art (AAPA) in view of USPN 6,221,690 to Taniguchi et al and in view of EP472768A and JP11006073A.

JP410233467A shows (Figures) insulator interposer 3 having a centrally located aperture and ball-grid-array. JP410233467A does not describe silicon oxide coated silicon interposer.

Bohr describes (column 11, last paragraph) an interposer formed of a silicon substrate coated with silicon oxide. The interposer material is very old and well known in the art and would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because it is known and it is an available material.

Art Unit: 1725

AAPA discloses well known semiconductor die and carrier substrate package fabrication and describe ([0007], [0008], [0012], [0013]) well known use of lasers in fabrication comprising resist removal, trimming, scribing, drilling, etc. The use of the known interposer material disclosed by Bohr with the fabrication steps known in the art and disclosed in AAPA would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because it provides suitable thermal expansion characteristics to the structure.

Taniguchi et al describe (Abstract) removal of resist using a laser and describe (column 6, last paragraph) resist removal and subsequent encapsulation with mold material.

EP472768A and JP11006073A describe well known laser roughening and the use of a rough surface in the fabrication would have been obvious at the time applicant's invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art because it provides better adhesion.

Note that dependent claim method limitations with the article independent claim does not clearly further define article claim structure.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed July 16, 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642

Art Unit: 1725

F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231

USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Newberry et al describe old and well known silicon oxide coated silicon as an insulating block 132.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
